A CSW58 side event

Gender and peace in the post-2015 development agenda

Friday 14 March 2014
2.30 - 4.00 PM
777 UN Plaza, CCUN, Drew Room – Ground Floor

Debates on the shape of the post-2015 development framework have included strong calls for goals and targets on both gender equality and peace. However, little attention has been given in these discussions to the links between the two. This panel discussion will explore how peace can support gender equality, how gender equality can support peace, and what a gender and peace perspective means for CSW58 and the post-2015 development agenda.

Chair: Sanne Tielemans – Policy Analyst, Conciliation Resources

Panel:
Virisila Buadromo - Executive Director, Fiji Women's Rights Movement
Nahla Valji – Peace & Security Policy Adviser, UN Women
Hannah Wright – Gender, Peace & Security Adviser, Saferworld
Annette Musu Kiawu – Deputy Minister, Liberian Ministry of Gender and Development

Please RSVP to Felix Colchester at fcolchester[at]c-r.org.

Read the joint paper by Saferworld and Conciliation Resources
Gender, violence and peace: a post-2015 development agenda